Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

An acute shortage of labor exists in the Lake Region. Thousands of bean pickers are needed. The U. S. Sugar Corporation needs hundreds and hundreds of men to pick beans. The situation is serious. Without relief from some quarter thousands of hamper of beans will remain in the field unharvested and hundreds of acres of sugar cane will go uncut.

Growers from this section have gone into the Canadian and Georgia in search of labor. Some few laborers have been found. And, too, a lot of grief has been found. Roy Vandegrift, Jr., in Pahokee, South Carolina, was put under arrest because local officials there wouldn't recognize his clearance papers from the Federal Employment Service.

I know there is a shortage of labor in several parts of South Carolina. But, yesterday, I took time out and went to Roy Vandegrift's office in Pahokee and read some of the letters he had received from colored women in and around Lake City. Every letter I read carried the same plea—growers with the WAVES, please send us more than glad to come to the Lake Region and pick beans.

After all when a group of laborers want to come to Florida to pick beans it seems to me that they should be allowed to come. Many of them have been in the habit of spending the colder months of the year in these parts. They are from sunny climates and they don't have to spend a lot of money for clothing. And a couple of months of character building and training through the one or two frosty spells we have here.

Miss Mitchell Is Member WAVES

Miss Anita Mitchell, former instructor of music in Pahokee and Canal Point schools, is now a member of the WAVES. She is attending training at Smith College in Massachusetts. An interesting letter from her arrived this week. "Dear Mr. Rardin: Would you please change the address to which you are sending a 'newspaper subscription' to P. O. Box 5, Neptune Beach, Fla. Thank you.

Finishing the institution of the WAVES very interesting. We have finished our first month of training here, called 'Commencement' and will be going home tomorrow. Friday Rear Admiral Randall and Lt. Comdr. McFarland were here with other dignitaries to present commissions and orders to the graduating class of WAVES who were sent this week-end. The graduation ceremonies were quite impressive. For the first time all 900 WAVES were outfitted in their Mainbooster uniforms and marched in a grand review on the Smith campus athletic field where all the officers and guests sat in the reviewing stands while we did our best column and flank maneuvers. It was quite an event. There were three new candidates for the WAVES in that area. There will be a new school opening in February at Millsboro, Georgia at GSCW.

With best regards to the folks of Canal Point and Pahokee, I am, sincerely yours, Anita Mitchell.

PAHOKEE BOYS JOIN ARMY AIR CORPS
The boys of the New Young and White House in Pahokee, Fla., spent last Tuesday of this week for Motor School. They were joined by the army air corps.

Miss Mary Collier spent the weekend visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hayley in West Palm Beach and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Collier in Lantana.

Elks Banquet In Honor of Official

By Paul Rardin

The Pahokee Lodge 1638, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held a banquet at the Women's Club Thursday night, honoring H. R. Buckleam of Cocoa, district deputy grand exalted ruler of Florida East on his resignation. W. A. Wall, West Palm Beach, acted as master of ceremonies. A turkey dinner was served by members of the Women's Club with Mrs. Nola Dragon in charge.

Following the banquet the Elks retired to the Elks Home where the district deputy grand exalted ruler paid his official visit and addressed members of the local lodge and their guests. Approximately 100 guests including Elks from Cocoa, West Palm Beach, Lake Worth and Miami Beach were present.

Blue Devils Lucky To Win From Eagles Tuesday; Score 13-6

By Paul Rardin

Handful of Fans Witness Afternoon Game At Fort Pierce
In one of the most lighthearted displays of football played by them this season, the Pahokee Blue Devils defeated the Fort Pierce Eagles Tuesday afternoon on the East Coast gridiron. The game, which was a one of the longest, drawn out affairs of its kind to be witnessed by the local fans, was played at Fort Pierce.

The spectators would never have known that the Blue Devils were the game brightly colored team which played at Fort Lauderdale ten days before, so sluggish was their play. Maybe it was because they thought they had a set-up in the Fort Pierce defense. It was a lot of luck that the Pahokee lads won the game by a score of 13 to 6.

The Eagles played the locals, racking up 12 first downs to seven for the locals. Unusually also, was the number of penalties called on Pahokee. They were set back four different times with penalties of 10, 10, 10 and 10.

Fort Pierce scored in the first minutes of the second quarter. The Fort extra point was good. In the third quarter Pahokee got one of the lucky breaks to help win the game. Hatch blocked a punt by the locals, fell on it for a touchdown and six points. Glenn Carr carried the ball over for the extra point. Making the score 13 to 0.

It was another block kick that gave Pahokee the 13 on the 30 yard line. Hatch carried the ball to the goal line—fumbled—and when the players were unscrambled Glenn Carr was hugging the ball. M. C. Carr, for another marker, making the score 13 to 6.

DENTON'S HDWE. SALVAGE STATION

The Pahokee-Canal Point War Relocation and Rationing Board has designated Denton's Hardware as Salvage Station for unserviceable rubber boots. When a consumer is granted a certificate for the purchase of new rubber boots, he must turn in the old ones to the store where the purchase is made. If the consumer purchases his new boots from a mail order house the unserviceable boots are turned in to the local Salvage Station.

A. Q. Howell's name appeared on the list from the local Rationing Board as having received five pounds of food for the month of October by mistake.

WHO KNOWS HOW TO COLD PACK VEGETABLES

A cold or so ago this newspaper ran an article which told how to cold pack vegetables. It was a trouble. Now we have a friend who wants to know some of the intricate work involved in packing vegetables. The canning editor of this newspaper has had experience lately with all of the modern and up-to-date methods of canning—with pressure cooking and the like—but we are a little short on the cold pack. If you can help, please write to the editor of this paper.

Picking Price Agreement Lasts As Long As A Snowball In ----

To the uninitiated the proverbial snowball didn't last long. According to the story of the bean picking price agreement it was melted almost instantly—and the remains thereof evaporated into thin air. "And that, my friends, is just what happened to the bean picking price agreement last in this vast agricultural empire here on the shores of Lake Okeechobee.

For edification of those who know not of the price agreement, maybe we should turn back the pages of Everglades history—at least turn back for a period of ten days. So here goes.

A few days back two separate and distinct meetings were held and they were attended by more than 100 growers each time. A great deal of time was taken up forming a "stabilization committee" of the Everglades Union of Federal Growers. Beautiful plans were formulated and committees appointed to regulate picking prices for the season. The committee functioned and the season started with 30c and 35c per hamper being prevailing prices. For once it looked like—maybe—it might work.

But, No! The agreement held just as long as there were pickers enough to do the work. When the pickers were scarce a shortage was at hand—the agreement went out the window. Farmers bought their labor from the block—bidding one against the other. Running the price for picking a hamper of beans from 30c and 35c to as much as 50c. And one report Tuesday said 60c was the prevailing wage in one field.

It isn't worth 50c or 60c to pick a hamper of beans. The price is out of proportion to other wages being paid for like labor in these parts.

Why Cut Your Own Throat?

Certainly it would be hard to get a farmer in the Lake Region to take a shiny new razor and slash his own throat from ear to ear. It would be such a money affair that we doubt it would ever be attempted.

But, today we see operations going on which tend to cut the farmer's financial throat. We refer to the sale of unharvested fields to speculators. Maybe the grower does get $100 for a field—a field picked the first time or maybe a small pick the grower is unable to harvest. That same $100 is likely to cost that same grower a much larger amount in the immediate future.

The buyer of the field doesn't mind paying FABLEOUS picking prices to get those beans. After all—about all he will have to do is to get the beans. He can afford to outfit the local grower to get his beans picked. The grower who grows the beans in the first place.

The practice is just another of those ideas along which grower's equity is being seriously. Had he seriously considered the effect upon his pocketbook, the grower would have left the beans in the field.

Rotarians Hear Ag. Dept. Employee

J. V. Evans, an employee of the state department of agriculture, was the speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Pahokee Rotary club yesterday. The program was in charge of Rotarian D. C. Jones who introduced the guest speaker. Mr. Evans talked on "Consumer Protection" and pointed out the many ways in which the state agricultural department protects the consuming public through its ever alert inspectors.

Denton's Caudill read an interesting letter from Rev. M. O. Slavson who is making preparations to go overseas. The board of the navy was a guest of Thurmond Knight. Ross Bleck, a naval aviator cadet, was a guest of his father, O. R. Bleck. S. K. Kirk, representative of the Seaboard Railroad, was a guest of John A. Dulany.

Kenny Mock Active In College Circles

Kenny Mock, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mock of Pahokee, is an outstanding leader of student activities at the University of Georgia, Athens, Ga. In an article of the Nov. 6th issue of the Black, the University of Georgia newspaper, Kenny was listed as student president of the Athletic Association, member of the Gridiron, Blue Key, Agkion and Demosthenian Clubs, of the Buckingham-Organization and the Agricultural Engineering Club.

When Kenny graduated from the Pahokee High School in 1938 he was presented with a loving cup and a medal for being the best all-around athlete and best all-around senior boy. At that time he was also assistant-scoutmaster of the Pahokee Boy Scout Troop.

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Although in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. And sales are expected to be even heavier.

If thousands of our soldiers, marines and civilian friends are to be supplied with the necessities of life, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters to the proper authorities. The efforts of the Post Office Department alone cannot be enough, in view of vast quantities of mail being handled by the postal system. The public must assist.

About 25,000 experienced postal workers already have been taken by the war services. Arrangements are under way to add thousands of temporary personnel to the postal staff, but this man power is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and air mail are being increased to handle the increased volume of mail. Extra trucks are almost impossible to get. Extra mail carriers are being recruited and trained. Extra transportation is being begun.

The free-mailing privilege granted to members of the armed forces has raised their mailings some 30 per cent, it is estimated. Expansion of these forces also is expanding rapidly to the post-war period.

The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel in those offices where the parcels will arrive at Christmas. The New York post office reports that in late October 150,000 parcels were handled daily in that office alone.

The Post Office Department is making strenuous efforts to avoid such a traffic jam in December 1942 under similar conditions during the First World War. It can succeed in those efforts only if the parcels will arrive at Christmas. The New York post office reports that in late October 150,000 parcels were handled daily in that office alone.

Church Plans Christmas Program

At a meeting of the Board of Stewards in the Pahokee Methodist Church Thursday night the Board voted to purchase new hymn books for the Sunday school choir. Robert O. Lampi, choir and special select music for the director, was authorized to select special music for the Christmas program. Mr. Lampi, Mrs. H. C. Bralim and Joe Hatten were appointed to a committee to select the hymn books which are being donated to the Sunday school by R. J. Simmonson and Joe Hatten.

It was announced that a two weeks' revival would be held at the church starting Jan. 10. The Rev. and Mrs. Johnson, evangelists, in charge.

69 Families Move To New Migratory Camp at Sand Cut

By Paul Rardin

After experiencing several unexpected delays, Camp Sand Cut, the new FSA Migratory labor camp for negroes at Sand Cut, is now in operation and has accommodated families up to this week according to C. Gilbert, camp manager who came here from St. Petersburg.

L. C. Cotton and Sons, contractor, was handicapped in the construction of the camp because of difficulty in obtaining materials. Also by the weather which interfered with the laying of sewers and building of roads. Late in the summer the community was struck by lightning and completely destroyed. This building at that time was being used as a temporary warehouse and was filled with furnishings for the labor shanty-houses. FSA officials are finding these furnishings very hard to replace. The building itself will not be replaced until after the summer. The new building will be used as a community meeting place until that time.

Applications for camp residence are now being received faster than they can be handled. Mr. Gilbert said. With its 150 shanties and 25 buildings, the camp is now eventually accommodate 75 families but the influx of residents is so rapid because of a shortage in camp personnel. The camp school, clinic and nursery have been started yet but arrangements for them are open them as soon as possible.

At Camp Everglades south of Lake Okeechobee, the FSA has a total 184, according to Jack Roddy, manager.

OKEECHOBEE WINS FROM B. GLADE

A few weeks ago the Belle Glade Golden Rams and the Okeechobee Catfish met on the gridiron in Okeechobee and the Rams held the Catfish to a 6-6 tie. On Tuesday night of this week the two teams met in a return match on Lake Okeechobee and the Okeechobee crew won by a score of 6 to 0. A large crowd of Belle Glade fans was in good luck.

The Belle Glade champs threatened to score later when they carried to the Catfish four yard line. But the Belle Glade players, a stone wall and the smaller Rams were unable to go over for the marker.

The Catfish scored in the final minutes of the third quarter when Watson passed to Faye on the Belle Glade 45, who continued his stroll to pay dirt. The try for a field goal was good.

Migrant Committee Met In Miami

Creel was welcomed as a new member of the committee. Dr. Creel was the new chairman. He urged local Lions to assist the zone meeting at Lake Worth on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

W. H. Vann, Inc., whose packing house burned last week, has opened offices at the market and is using the grading belts which were installed there last season. The Vann company has installed office equipment for a safe as an office and has installed office equipment and is conducting a brokerage business.

J. H. Barwick, long-time Lake Region broker, is operating at the market this season. Several other brokers of the area have moved there and shipments through the market should increase as the season advances.

Thurmond Knight, celery grower, has his celery washing machinery at the market and again this year will direct their washing and picking deal there.

The Everglades Grower Cooperative erected and opened a huge processing plant at the north end of the market last season. Thousands of crates of celery were processed for members of the cooperative and again this year during the celery deal many more thousands of crates of the luscious vegetable are being packed.

Growers from Indiantown, Okeechobee, South Bay and Port Mayaca have taken advantage of the market facilities this season. Market Manager John A. Dulany reports these growers fully satisfied with results obtained through the market. The market has been getting off to a slow start since its completion but it is expected to be better today than ever before for local produce.

It was announced that the Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Ferguson had donated the equivalent to $25 to local churches. The purchase of paint to finish the redecoration of the parishioner kitchen was authorized. The group voted to act as both recording and corresponding secretary.

Mrs. R. W. Sanders sang a solo and the choir sang "The Lord is my Shepherd." Mrs. Sanders was in charge of the devotionals.

Cinematic Chatter . . .

—By MALCOLM MILLAR—
What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

I believe I am safe in saying I have a nice report to make on all of the features on this week's schedule at your theatre.

I'll take "Across the Pacific" first because it will be screened at the Prince Theatre on Sunday, Monday, and because it brings those three stars of the "Maltese Falcon," Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor and Sydney Greenstreet back in a picture that carries as much wallop as a two-ton bomb loaded with T.N.T. Picture stars Humphrey Bogart as a captain who has been dishonorably discharged from the U. S. Army and Sydney Greenstreet as a Japanese vessel bound for the Orient where he meets Sydney Greenstreet and Mary Astor and finds himself involved in an intrigue which gives him plenty of action and thrills before he wrecks a plan to blow up the Gatun Locks of the Panama Canal. You'll go for this pulse pounder in a large way.

Ray Milland and Paulette Goddard bring us a hilarious side-splitting comedy, teeming with suspense and racing with action when they do "The Lady Has Plans" Tuesday. The lady and the plans part of the story has to do with a beautiful spy, Margaret Hayes, who has a reproduction of important U. S. navy plans, which have been stolen, drawn on her back. Due to an upset in the spy's timetable Paulette arrives in Lisbon and is mistaken for the lady with the plans.

This case of mistaken identity is as funny a case as ever encountered in moviegoers, and I'm sure you'll enjoy every flicker of it. These lovable characters of the Alrich Family, known to millions of fans on the radio and portrayed by Jimmy Lydon, Charles Smith, Mary Anderson, Olive Blakeney and other well known players of the silver sheet, come in Wednesday-Thursday doing a story called "Henry and Dizzy." The name alone suggests that this show will warp your ribs and contort your jaws with convulsions of uncontrollable laughter. You can't go wrong with this one.

On this same program your United States Government presents a full length feature produced under their personal supervision entitled "The World As I See It." It is the first true and authentic motion picture record of ten momentous years that led up to Pearl Harbor. Compiled from confiscated Axis films and other sources—you'll remember it as long as you remember December 7th! It is a picture that every red-blooded American should see. Being a picture of facts and not fiction it has no particular appeal, but it has a wallop that will jolt you more than anything you have seen for a long time.

On the Friday set-up you have a fictional and a factual pic. I'll take "No Hands on the Clock," starring Chester Morris and Jean Parker, a mighty imposing cast of trouper doing a mystery pic in a mastery manner. Here is one that will turn your ears inside out, for it has the gory murders, done under the most mystifying circumstances one could imagine. From the first flick to the last flicking this pic will keep you riding the edge of your seat, ready to leap right out of your chair.

On this same program comes "United We Stand," with Lowell Thomas narrating a shocking tale, torn from civilization's most explosive decade, with a flaming background that encompasses the whole civilized earth and the seven seas. The cast is stupendous, numbering hundreds of thousands, including Emperors, Kings, Dictators, Presidents, Generals, and the Free, Conquered and Refugee Peoples of the world. It is another must for those who believe in Liberty, Freedom and the Pursuit of Happiness!

Well born in closer while I steer you into an action-packed cow opera that'll cause a stampede of the members of the Six Shooters Club come this Saturday when Tim Holt and a herd of horse drammey cowhands come pounding onto the screen in Tim's latest "The Bad Girl Range."

With this fast paced Western spree and the Perils of Pauline—teeming with some jam-dandy short subjects we expect quite a gathering of the out-door genies on this day.

By the bye, the War Bonds, now being sold from our box offices are going great. Can we serve you? See you at the movies—Mal

PAHOKEE HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

WRITTEN BY REPORTERS FROM EACH CLASS

Senior Class

The Senior Class of '43 will not try to publish a year book, on account of few materials and little money. They thought you might be interested in meeting the members of their class through the paper.

Glynn Carr, quarterback on the Blue Devil squad, was born in Pahokee and has been here ever since. His unusually cheerful manner has won him a host of friends, not only in the Senior class but throughout the school. This characteristic probably won him the unanimous vote of the Senior class for their president.

Glynn takes a very active part in school activities. He has been a member of the F. F. A. for three years and has enjoyed all of it. This year Glynn has joined the Pan American Club, the purpose of which is to promote better relationship between the American and foreign students.

Glynn's favorite food is fried chicken and he hates the color of green. He likes sports of any kind but is rather partial to hunting and fishing. When he completes his education he hopes to get into the Air Corps as a mechanic.

Vice-president of the Senior class, Nicky Sartoris, hails from Washington, D. C. Nicky has been an active member of the Pan American Club for two years and is entering his third year, in view of his being a senior in high school. She was secretary of our Junior class.

After pleasing disposition and ready smile make her well liked on the campus. Her favorite dishes are seafood and chocolate ice cream. Reading and dancing are her favorite pastimes.

When Nicky graduates from Pahokee, she will further her education at college.

All of this news is collected by students, under the direction and supervision of Louise Sims.

Wednesday, November 4 the Junior class met to select their class ring. After seeing the samples the class was unanimous in choosing a gold ring without setting.

Sophomore Class

Dorothy Cate was given charge of the Scrap Book in the Pan American Club. Emma Gene Dittler was elected as chairman of the program committee.

Pan American Club

The Pan American Club met for an organization meeting Thursday night, November 5. Miss Barbara McNamara, Spanish teacher, met the club. There were about twenty members at the meeting. There were only four members remaining from last year. These four were elected to the first four offices as follows: Louise Sims, president; Nicky Sartoris, vice president; Virginia Young, secretary and Iona Padgett, treasurer. The two remaining officers had to be filled by new members. They were as follows: Eleanor Chaffin, reporter and Punk Batchelor, sergeant-at-arms.

The club voted to do away with the law saying that only ten per cent of the school could be in the club. The law was changed to read that twenty-five per cent of the school could join. The various committee chairmen were named by the president. The next meeting will be the third Thursday in November.

"Sure thing, Tim. Here's what I told him, Charlie. There's no such thing as votin' a nation, a chile-a country, or even a community dry. We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally, whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. Urges Negroes To Preserve S. Cards

Negroes are most careless with their Social Security account number cards, according to M. D. Tamm, manager of the West Palm Beach Field Office of the Social Security Board.

"About twice as many colored people as white apply at a day for duplicate cards."

"Replacing lost cards is costing the Government more than $500,000 a year. In other words, this means about 31,000 man-days of work by our employees, tons of heavy stock paper, miles of typewriter ribbon, barrels of printer ink and so on."

"The card is a certificate showing that the worker—regardless of race, color, creed or sex—has an insurance account with the United States Government. That is Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and should not be 'loose' around with State off-duty position or job insurance. Old-Age and Survivors Insurance is a National Insurance plan for workers in factories, mines, mills, stores, offices, hotels and other places of commerce and industry."

"To pay these benefits, when the time comes for the worker or his family to claim them, the Government must keep a record of all wages. The account number on the card prevents mistakes. A person's name is not enough as there are many people with the same name."

"Each worker should take good care of his or her card—just as good care as that accorded a bank book, a driver's license or a ration card."

Mr. Tamm urges negroes especially to look good for the original account number card before applying for a duplicate. He listed some strange places people hide their social security cards—under mattresses, behind pictures, in fruit jars, in books—hide them so effectively that the card cannot be located when needed on a new job or to claim benefits.
